- Delegations

Guidelines

The powers of the Goodstart Directors are conferred by the Corporations Act 2001 and the Goodstart Constitution (dated 18 October 2018).

It is the Board’s intention that these delegations contribute to the good governance and effective operation of the company by:

- Helping ensure proper and consistent management of its operations and finances;
- Supporting effective but flexible management control structures by ensuring decisions are made at appropriate levels within the company;
- Supporting clarity and consistency of decision-making;
- Finding an appropriate balance between empowering decision-makers within the company and implementing appropriate, risk-based financial and operational control structures.

The Board has also had regard to Schedule 1, Part 2 of the Goodstart Constitution, which sets out rules for the interpretation of its provisions. Where the Constitution confers power on a person or body to delegate a function or power:

- The delegation may be general or limited;
- The delegation can be to a person holding, occupying or performing the duties of a specified office or position;
- The delegation may include the power to delegate;
- The function or power, when performed or exercised by the delegate, is taken to have been performed or exercised by the person or body.

The approach the Board has adopted is to reserve specified powers to itself and its committees, and to delegate all other decision-making powers necessary for the effective operation of the company to the CEO, along with the power to delegate to other staff or positions within the company. The Board’s expectation is that powers delegated by the CEO are specified in a formal ‘CEO Delegations’ document, which contains appropriate guidelines for the exercise of the delegations it contains.
In the event of any inconsistency between the Board Charter and these delegations (as authorised by the Board from time-to-time), these delegations shall prevail.
